Overview

Burgos is a city in northern Castile, in Spain, best known for its great Gothic cathedral, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. It was the home of the medieval hero El Cid, and it is a major stop on the Camino de Santiago.

The old town is compact and easy to walk, with many churches, gates and a hilltop castle. It suits one or two days, and it is close to the Atapuerca archaeological sites.

When to visit

Late spring to early autumn is the best time, with warm days and cool evenings. Winters are long and cold, with frost and some snow, and the city is often grey.

The main festival is San Pedro y San Pablo in late June, with parades and street events. Holy Week is also marked.

Where to explore

Other places nearby:

- Old cities: Valladolid, Salamanca, Segovia and Ávila.
- Cathedral cities: León and Palencia.
- Wine: Ribera del Duero.

Getting there

- By air: Burgos has little commercial air service. Use Bilbao, Valladolid or Madrid airports.
- By train: Trains run to Madrid, Valladolid, León and the Basque Country. Book on Renfe.
- By bus: Coaches serve Madrid, Bilbao and other cities in the north.

Getting around

- On foot: The old town is compact and flat. The cathedral, the main squares and the river are all close together.
- Cycling: A riverside path runs through the city. Cycling is practical on the flat parts.
- Public transport: Buses reach the monasteries outside the center.

Getting around on foot & by bike

WALKABILITY

High

The old town is compact and flat, with the cathedral and main squares close together.

CYCLING INFRASTRUCTURE

Moderate

A riverside path runs through the city, but the center has limited bike lanes.

Driving

- Is a car worth it?: Not for the old town. A car helps for Atapuerca and the villages.
- Parking: Use an underground car park at the edge of the center.
- Restrictions: Much of the old town is pedestrian only.

Food & drink

Burgos is known for hearty Castilian food. Morcilla de Burgos (rice blood sausage), roast lamb (lechazo) and fresh cheese are the best-known local foods.

Wines from the nearby Ribera del Duero are common in the restaurants.

What to eat & drink

BREAKFAST

Churros · Churros con Chocolate
Fried dough sticks served with a thick, dark hot chocolate for dipping — a classic Spanish breakfast or late-night snack.

LUNCH

Paella Valenciana
A saffron-scented rice dish cooked in a wide, shallow pan. The traditional Valencian version uses chicken, rabbit, and green beans — best eaten at midday.

Gazpacho
A cold, blended soup of raw tomatoes, cucumber, pepper, garlic, olive oil, and vinegar, originally from Andalusia. Served as a drink or a starter, especially in summer.

DINNER

Pulpo a la Gallega
Boiled octopus sliced onto a wooden board and dressed with olive oil, coarse salt, and smoked paprika — a signature dish of Galicia.

SNACKS & STREET FOOD

Jamón Ibérico
Dry-cured ham from acorn-fed Iberian pigs, sliced paper-thin and eaten on its own or with bread. The finest grade, jamón ibérico de bellota, is one of Spain's most prized products.

Tortilla Española
A thick potato and egg omelette, served warm or at room temperature, found in virtually every bar in Spain. Often eaten as a tapa or a quick meal.

Patatas Bravas
Fried potato chunks served with a spicy tomato sauce or aioli — one of the most common tapas across the country.

Pintxos
Small snacks anchored to slices of bread with a toothpick, the Basque Country's answer to tapas. Found in bar counters across San Sebastián and Bilbao, often with elaborate toppings.

Croquetas
Crispy breaded cylinders with a creamy béchamel filling, typically made with jamón, bacalà (salt cod), or mushrooms.

DRINKS

Rioja Wine · Vino de Rioja

Spain's best-known wine region produces full-bodied reds from Tempranillo grapes, aged in oak. The crianza, reserva, and gran reserva labels indicate increasing age and complexity.

Safety & health

Burgos is a very safe city. Winters can be very cold, and the roads can be icy, so pack warm clothes. Summer evenings are cool, so a jacket is useful.

History

Burgos was founded in 884 as a fortress and became the capital of Castile. The knight Rodrigo Díaz de Vivar, known as El Cid, lived here in the 11th century.

The cathedral was begun in 1221 and finished in the 15th century, and it was listed by UNESCO in 1984. The city later became a center of the wool trade and the Camino de Santiago.
