Overview

Erfurt is the capital of Thuringia. Its medieval old town has narrow lanes, half-timbered houses and a large cathedral hill.

Wealth from the medieval trade in woad dye built the city. Martin Luther studied here, and its medieval Jewish sites are a UNESCO World Heritage site. Erfurt suits a relaxed stay of one or two nights. It is also a good base for Weimar, Eisenach and the Thuringian Forest.

When to visit

Late spring and early autumn are the most comfortable times. Summer is warm, and winters are cold with frost and some snow.

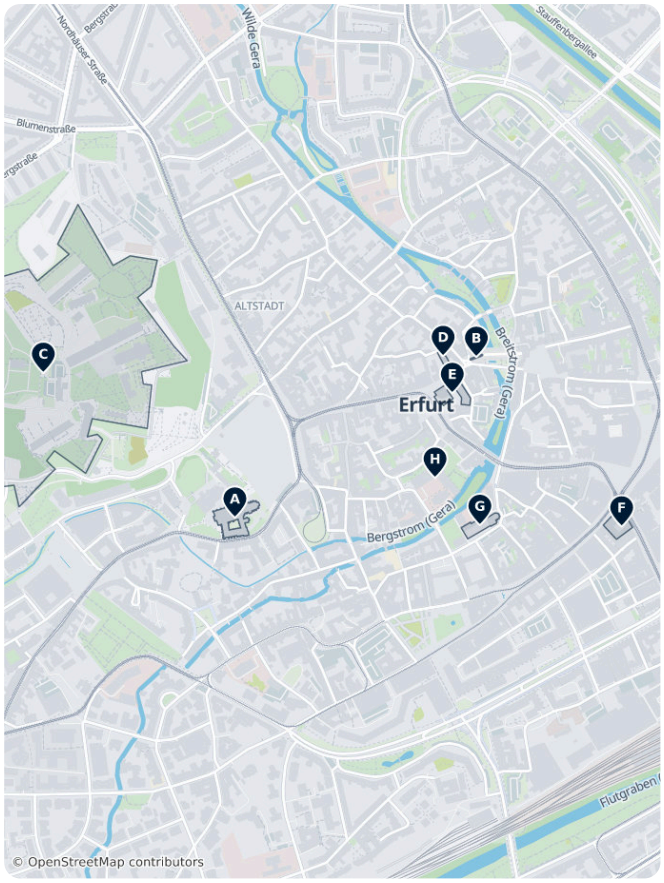

The Christmas market on the Domplatz runs from late November into December. It fills the square below the cathedral and is the main reason to visit in winter.

Top sights

- A Erfurter Dom stands on the Domberg above the Domplatz. The hill also holds St Severus' Church, so you can see both on one walk.
- B Krämerbrücke is a bridge lined with half-timbered houses. The ground floors hold craft workshops, galleries and cafés.
- C Zitadelle Petersberg is a large baroque fortress on a hill above the old town. The walls give wide views over the roofs and spires.
- D Alte Synagoge Erfurt is a medieval synagogue that is now a museum. It shows the Erfurt Treasure, a hoard of medieval coins and silver.
- E Rathaus Erfurt is a neo-Gothic town hall on the Fischmarkt.
- F Angermuseum Erfurt is an art museum in a baroque building. Its collection runs from medieval art to the modern period.
- G Barfüßerkirche is a former Franciscan church. It now belongs to the Angermuseum.
- H Predigerkirche is a former Dominican church in the old town.

What to experience

- Watch open-air theatre at the DomStufen-Festival in summer. The stage is set on the wide steps below the cathedral.
- Join a guided visit to the medieval mikveh, the Jewish ritual bath near the Krämerbrücke.
- Spend an afternoon at the egapark, a large garden park west of the centre.

Day trips

Erfurt sits in the middle of Thuringia.

- Ⓐ Weimar is a short regional train ride away. It is the town of Goethe and Schiller and the birthplace of the Bauhaus school.
- Gotha has a large baroque palace and a pleasant old town.
- Arnstadt is a small old town where Bach worked as a young organist.
- Ⓑ Eisenach is about 1 hour by train. Wartburg Castle above the town is a UNESCO World Heritage site and the place where Luther translated the New Testament.
- Jena is a university town in a river valley.

Where to explore

Other places in Thuringia that work as a longer stay or a second stop:

- Thuringian Forest is a wooded hill range for hiking and, in winter, skiing.
- Suhl is a town on the edge of the forest.
- Saalfeld is a small historic town in the south-east of the state.

Getting there

- By train: Erfurt Hauptbahnhof is a hub for fast ICE trains. Munich, Dresden and Leipzig are also on direct lines. Book on Deutsche Bahn.
- By air: Erfurt-Weimar Airport (ERF) is close to the centre and linked by tram. Services are limited, mostly holiday flights. Most visitors fly to Frankfurt (FRA) or Leipzig/Halle (LEJ) and continue by train.

Getting around

- On foot: The old town is compact. The main sights are within walking distance of each other. Streets are cobbled in many places, so wear comfortable shoes.
- Trams and buses: Trams run from the station through the centre and out to the airport.
- Cycling: Cycling is practical on the flat areas of the city. The Domberg and Petersberg are steep.

Getting around on foot & by bike

WALKABILITY

High

The old town is compact and the main sights are within walking distance.

CYCLING INFRASTRUCTURE

Moderate

Cycling works on flat streets, but the Domberg and Petersberg are steep.

Driving

- Is a car worth it?: Not for the city. The old town is best explored on foot. A car helps for the Thuringian Forest and for sights outside the towns.

Food & drink

Thuringian cooking is hearty. Look for Thuringian bratwurst, grilled over charcoal, and Klöße, the local potato dumplings, served with roast meat and gravy.

Cafés and restaurants cluster around the Fischmarkt, the Wenigemarkt and the Krämerbrücke. Many have outdoor tables in summer.

What to eat & drink

LUNCH

Doner Kebab · Döner Kebab
A sandwich of roasted meat, salad, and sauce in flatbread, invented by Turkish immigrants in Berlin and now a national staple.

DINNER

Schnitzel
A thin, breaded and fried cutlet, usually pork, served with potatoes or fries and a lemon wedge.

Sauerbraten
A pot roast marinated for days in vinegar and spices before slow cooking, served with red cabbage and dumplings.

SNACKS & STREET FOOD

Bratwurst
A grilled or fried pork sausage, often served in a bread roll with mustard, sold at stands nationwide.

Currywurst
Sliced sausage topped with curry-spiced ketchup, a Berlin invention now popular across the country.

Pretzel · Brezel
A large, chewy salted bread pretzel, especially common in Bavaria, often eaten with butter or cheese.

SWEETS & DESSERTS

Black Forest Cake · Schwarzwälder Kirschtorte
A layered chocolate sponge cake with cherries, cherry liqueur, and whipped cream.

DRINKS

Beer · Bier
Germany brews hundreds of regional styles, from Bavarian Weissbier to Cologne's Kölsch, each tied to its home city.

Gluhwein · Glühwein
Mulled, spiced red wine served hot, a staple of winter and Christmas markets.

Apfelschorle
Apple juice mixed with sparkling water, the everyday non-alcoholic drink of choice.

Safety & health

Erfurt is safe for visitors. Pickpockets can work in crowds at the Christmas market and around the main station.

History

Erfurt was first mentioned in the 8th century. It grew rich in the Middle Ages from the trade in woad, a plant used for blue dye.

The stone Krämerbrücke was completed in 1325.

The Jewish community was an important part of medieval Erfurt. A hoard found in 1998 is thought to date from the persecution of 1349. It is now shown in the Alte Synagoge Erfurt.

The university was founded in 1379. Martin Luther studied here and entered the Augustinian monastery in 1505. Its church, the Augustinerkirche, still stands.

In 1665 work began on the Zitadelle Petersberg. The army used it until 1963. In 1891 the Social Democratic Party agreed its Erfurt Programme in the city.
