TRAVEL GUIDE

Tripomatic

Overview

Freiburg is a university city in the south-west of Germany. It sits at the edge of the Black Forest, close to the French and Swiss borders. The old town is compact and easy to walk. Forest trails and a high viewpoint start at the edge of the city.

The city is known for its sunny setting, its cycling culture and its green planning. Freiburg suits a relaxed trip of two to four days. It works well for travellers who like old towns, hiking, wine and day trips into the Black Forest and Alsace.

When to visit

Spring and early autumn are mild and good for walking and hiking. Summer is warm and long days suit the forest and the cable car. Winter is cold and grey in the valley, with snow on the high ground nearby.

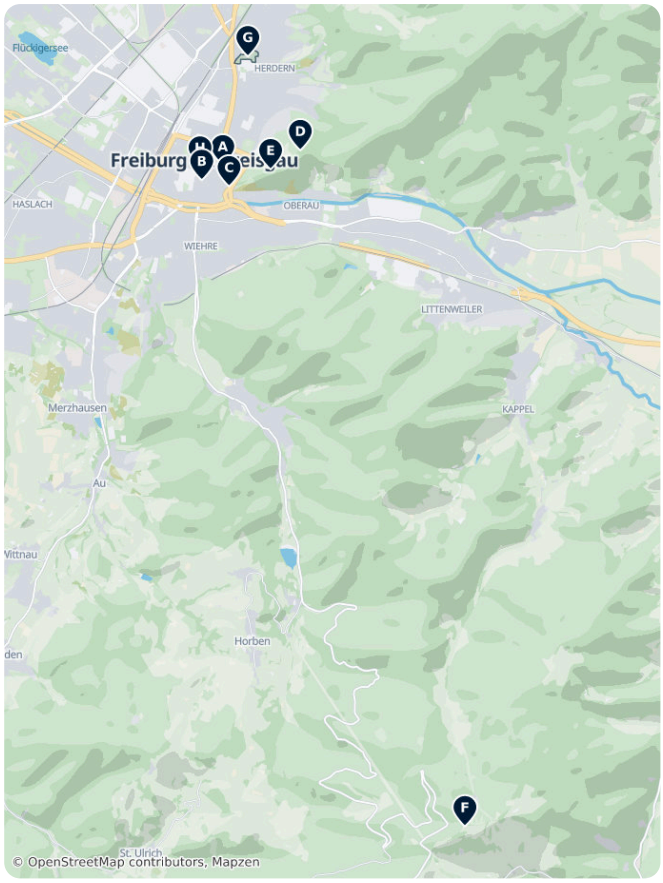

Plan a winter trip around the Christmas markets in Advent.

Top sights

- A Münster Unserer Lieben Frau is the symbol of the city. It is a Gothic cathedral made of red sandstone, with a tall open-work spire. It was only lightly damaged in the 1944 air raid.
- B Martinstor and C Schwabentor are two medieval city gates. They are good photo stops at the edge of the old town.
- The Augustinermuseum shows medieval art and sculpture from the region. It is a good rainy-day stop in the old town.
- D Schlossberg is the wooded hill above the old town. Walk up for views over the roofs and the Münster, then climb E Schlossbergturm for a wider view.
- F Schauinsland is Freiburg's own mountain, 1,284 m high. Ride the Schauinslandbahn cable car up from the valley and walk the trails on top.
- G Botanischer Garten is a quiet park with plant collections. It is a short walk north of the centre.
- H Uniseum covers the history of the university.
- The Historisches Kaufhaus, on the south side of Münsterplatz, is a Late Gothic merchants' hall. Its facade has statues of Habsburg emperors.

What to experience

- Eat a Lange Rote, a long grilled sausage, at the market on Münsterplatz.
- Follow the Bächle, the small water channels that run along old-town streets. The running water cools the air in summer.
- Ride the Schauinslandbahn cable car up Schauinsland for the ride and the views. Walk back down on the forest trails.
- Watch the evening light from Schlossberg.
- Visit the Christmas markets in the old town in Advent.

Day trips

Freiburg is a good base for trips into the Black Forest and across the border. Closer places come first.

- Staufen and Breisach: Two small towns about 30 to 60 minutes away. Staufen has a castle ruin above vineyards. Breisach stands on the Rhine, with a hilltop cathedral and views to France.
- Kaiserstuhl: A volcanic hill range west of the city. It is a wine region with village tastings. A car or bike helps here.
- Titisee-Neustadt: The Titisee is a popular Black Forest lake, about 30 to 60 minutes away. Walk the shore or hike in the hills.
- A Black Forest and B Triberg: Forest villages, trails and waterfalls. Allow 1 to 1.5 hours each way to Triberg.
- C Basel: A Swiss city with museums and a Rhine-side old town, about 1 hour away by train.
- D Colmar: A small Alsatian town with canals and half-timbered houses. Allow 1 to 1.5 hours each way.
- E Strasbourg: A large Alsatian city with a famous cathedral, about 1.5 hours away.

Where to explore

Other cities in the region can be combined with a Freiburg stay.

- North: Baden-Baden, Karlsruhe, Heidelberg and Stuttgart.
- South: Lörrach, on the Swiss border next to Basel.
- East: Konstanz and Lake Constance for a lake trip.

Getting there

- By air: The nearest airport is EuroAirport Basel-Mulhouse-Freiburg, about 70 km south of the city. It is on the French side of the border. Frankfurt and Zurich are other gateways that you can reach by train.
- By train: Freiburg Hauptbahnhof is on the main north-south line through the Rhine valley. Long-distance trains connect it with Basel, Karlsruhe and Frankfurt. Book on Deutsche Bahn.
- By bus: Long-distance coaches stop at the bus station next to the main station.

Getting around

- Public transport: The VAG runs trams and buses. Buy tickets in the VAG mobil app or at machines at tram stops. See VAG Freiburg.
- On foot: The old town is small and mostly closed to cars. Most sights are within a 15-minute walk.
- By bike: Freiburg has many cycle lanes and is easy to cycle. Watch for tram tracks.

Getting around on foot & by bike

WALKABILITY

High

The compact old town is mostly car-free and easy to walk.

CYCLING INFRASTRUCTURE

High

Cycle lanes are common and the terrain in the valley is flat.

Driving

- Is a car worth it?: Not for the city. A car helps for Black Forest villages and the Kaiserstuhl wine villages.
- Parking: The old town is largely closed to cars. Use a car park at the edge of the centre and walk or take a tram.

Food & drink

Freiburg sits in the Baden wine region. Local white and red wines are on most menus, and the Kaiserstuhl is nearby. Look for Black Forest dishes in the old town.

Eating clusters around the Münsterplatz and the lanes of the old town.

What to eat & drink

LUNCH

Doner Kebab · Döner Kebab
A sandwich of roasted meat, salad, and sauce in flatbread, invented by Turkish immigrants in Berlin and now a national staple.

DINNER

Schnitzel
A thin, breaded and fried cutlet, usually pork, served with potatoes or fries and a lemon wedge.

Sauerbraten
A pot roast marinated for days in vinegar and spices before slow cooking, served with red cabbage and dumplings.

SNACKS & STREET FOOD

Bratwurst
A grilled or fried pork sausage, often served in a bread roll with mustard, sold at stands nationwide.

Currywurst
Sliced sausage topped with curry-spiced ketchup, a Berlin invention now popular across the country.

Pretzel · Brezel
A large, chewy salted bread pretzel, especially common in Bavaria, often eaten with butter or cheese.

SWEETS & DESSERTS

Black Forest Cake · Schwarzwälder Kirschtorte
A layered chocolate sponge cake with cherries, cherry liqueur, and whipped cream.

DRINKS

Beer · Bier
Germany brews hundreds of regional styles, from Bavarian Weissbier to Cologne's Kölsch, each tied to its home city.

Gluhwein · Glühwein
Mulled, spiced red wine served hot, a staple of winter and Christmas markets.

Apfelschorle
Apple juice mixed with sparkling water, the everyday non-alcoholic drink of choice.

Safety & health

Freiburg is very safe for visitors. Petty theft such as pickpocketing happens in crowds, at the station and at busy markets.

Cyclists are fast and common. Do not stand in bike lanes, and look out for trams.

History

Freiburg was founded as a market town in 1120 by the House of Zähringen. The Münster Unserer Lieben Frau grew over several centuries and still stands over the market square. The medieval gates Martinstor and Schwabentor date from the old city wall.

The university was founded in 1457 and shapes the town today. In November 1944 a British air raid destroyed much of the centre. The old town was rebuilt on its medieval street plan, and the Münster survived.

Freiburg im Breisgau Essentials

Freiburg im Breisgau features a preserved medieval center defined by the Freiburg Minster, a Gothic cathedral with a 116-meter open-work spire. The city is characterized by its Bächle, narrow water-filled runnels lining the streets. Key landmarks include the 13th-century Martinstor and Schwabentor gates, and the red-sandstone Old Town Hall. The Schlossberg hill, accessible by funicular, provides views over the Rhine Plain toward the Vosges Mountains. Cultural highlights include the Augustiner Museum, housed in a former monastery, and the daily market at Münsterplatz.
