TRAVEL GUIDE

Overview

Zaragoza is the capital of Aragon and a large city on the river Ebro. It lies halfway between Madrid and Barcelona. The city has Roman, Moorish and Baroque monuments, and a lively tapas scene.

Most visitors stay one or two nights. Zaragoza suits travelers who want big sights, good food and a local atmosphere, with fewer tourists than the biggest Spanish cities.

When to visit

Spring and autumn are the best seasons. Summers are hot and dry. Winters are cold. A strong northwest wind called the cierzo can blow at any time of year and feels cold in winter.

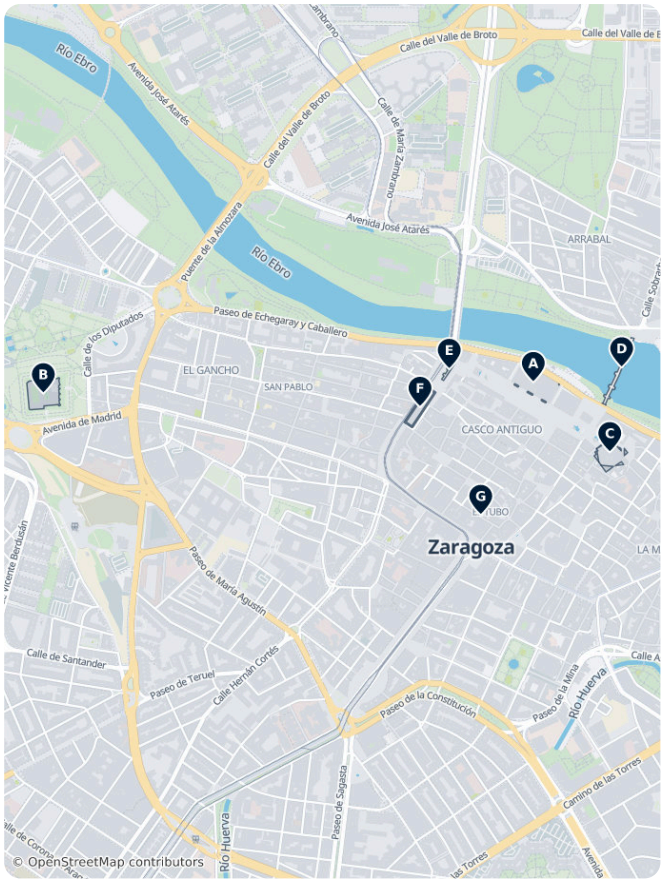

The biggest event is the Fiestas del Pilar in the second week of October. They include parades, concerts and a large offering of flowers to the Virgin of the Pilar.

What to experience

- Join the tapas route in El Tubo. Order a small plate and a drink in one bar, then move on to the next.
- Walk along the Ebro at sunset for views of the Pilar and the Stone Bridge.

Day trips

- Belchite (about 50 km, 45 minutes by car): the ruins of a village destroyed in the civil war.
- A Huesca (about 70 km, 1 hour by train or bus): a small city at the foot of the Pyrenees.
- B Tarazona (about 85 km, 1 hour by car or bus): a town known for its Mudéjar buildings.
- Monasterio de Piedra (about 120 km, 1.5 hours by car): a park with waterfalls around a monastery.

Where to explore

Other places in Aragon:

- Huesca and Tarazona are nearby historic towns.
- Benasque is a mountain village in the Pyrenees for hiking and skiing.

Getting there

- By air: Zaragoza airport (ZAZ) has limited service. Most visitors arrive by train.
- By train: High-speed trains reach Zaragoza-Delicias from Madrid in about 1.5 hours, and from Barcelona in about 1.5 hours. Book on Renfe.
- By bus: Buses link Zaragoza with Madrid, Barcelona and other cities.
- Delicias station is about 3 km from the old town. Use a city bus or taxi.

Getting around

- On foot: The old town is flat, and most main sights are close together.
- Tram: A tram line crosses the city and stops near the Plaza del Pilar.
- Cycling: The city is flat, and there is a public bike-share system called Bizi.

Getting around on foot & by bike

WALKABILITY

High

The old town is flat and its main sights are close together.

CYCLING INFRASTRUCTURE

Moderate

The city is flat, and there is a public bike-share system.

Driving

- Is a car worth it?: Not for the city. A car helps for day trips outside the city.
- Parking: Use a car park near the edge of the old town.
- Restrictions: Parts of the old town are closed to normal traffic.

Food & drink

Aragon is known for ternasco, roast young lamb, and for borrajas, a green vegetable. Local sweets include frutas de Aragón, candied fruit covered in chocolate. Red wine from nearby Cariñena is common.

For tapas, go to El Tubo, the narrow streets near the Plaza del Pilar. The Mercado Central is good for a quick lunch.

What to eat & drink

BREAKFAST

Churros · Churros con Chocolate
Fried dough sticks served with a thick, dark hot chocolate for dipping — a classic Spanish breakfast or late-night snack.

LUNCH

Paella Valenciana
A saffron-scented rice dish cooked in a wide, shallow pan. The traditional Valencian version uses chicken, rabbit, and green beans — best eaten at midday.

Gazpacho
A cold, blended soup of raw tomatoes, cucumber, pepper, garlic, olive oil, and vinegar, originally from Andalusia. Served as a drink or a starter, especially in summer.

DINNER

Pulpo a la Gallega
Boiled octopus sliced onto a wooden board and dressed with olive oil, coarse salt, and smoked paprika — a signature dish of Galicia.

SNACKS & STREET FOOD

Jamón Ibérico
Dry-cured ham from acorn-fed Iberian pigs, sliced paper-thin and eaten on its own or with bread. The finest grade, jamón ibérico de bellota, is one of Spain's most prized products.

Tortilla Española
A thick potato and egg omelette, served warm or at room temperature, found in virtually every bar in Spain. Often eaten as a tapa or a quick meal.

Patatas Bravas
Fried potato chunks served with a spicy tomato sauce or aioli — one of the most common tapas across the country.

Pintxos
Small snacks anchored to slices of bread with a toothpick, the Basque Country's answer to tapas. Found in bar counters across San Sebastián and Bilbao, often with elaborate toppings.

Croquetas
Crispy breaded cylinders with a creamy béchamel filling, typically made with jamón, bacalà (salt cod), or mushrooms.

DRINKS

Rioja Wine · Vino de Rioja

Spain's best-known wine region produces full-bodied reds from Tempranillo grapes, aged in oak. The crianza, reserva, and gran reserva labels indicate increasing age and complexity.

Safety & health

Zaragoza is a safe city. Keep your bag closed in crowded streets such as El Tubo at night.

In summer, the heat is strong. Drink water and avoid the hottest hours.

History

The Romans founded the city as Caesaraugusta around 14 BC. Parts of the Murallas de Zaragoza still stand.

The Moors held the city from the 8th century. In the 11th century they built Palacio de la Aljafería. King Alfonso I of Aragon took the city in 1118 and made it his capital. The Pilar basilica, Basílica de Nuestra Señora del Pilar, was built much later, from the 17th century.

Zaragoza City Essentials

Zaragoza showcases a chronological journey from the 1st-century Roman Theatre and Caesar Augusta Forum to the Mudéjar-influenced La Seo Cathedral. The city's landmark is the baroque Basilica of Our Lady of the Pillar, situated on the vast Plaza del Pilar alongside the Renaissance Lonja and the 15th-century Stone Bridge. Art enthusiasts can study Goya's works at the Ibercaja Museum, while the Expo 2008 site offers contemporary architecture and Europe's largest river aquarium. For local gastronomy, the historic alleys of El Tubo serve as the city's primary hub for traditional Aragonese tapas.

Historic Churches & Cathedrals

Zaragoza's religious landscape is defined by the coexistence of two cathedrals: the Baroque Basilica of Our Lady of the Pillar and the Mudéjar-influenced La Seo. The city's historic center preserves several 14th-century churches, such as Santa María Magdalena and San Miguel de los Navarros, which showcase intricate Mudéjar brickwork and bell towers. Later additions, including the 18th-century Iglesia de San Felipe and the gilded San Carlos Borromeo, highlight the city's transition into Baroque and Neoclassical styles.
